BEST FEATURES OF THE SCHOOL

- The positive staff-student relationships and good behavior across all phases
- The good progress elementary students make in elementary Arabic, English and mathematics
- The consistent, high degree of support that parents provide to leaders and teachers

POINTS TO IMPROVE

- Ensure that all staff are fully aware of arrangements for child protection
- Optimise leadership structure in the school and ensure that there is good capacity
- Implement more effective systems for teacher appraisal and raise levels of achievement across all subjects and at each grade level

WELLBEING

THE QUALITY OF WELLBEING PROVISION AND OUTCOME IS AT A MODERATE LEVEL

Leaders in the school have taken some steps towards promoting the wellbeing of students, staff and parents, including the appointment of wellbeing leaders. However, the governing board has yet to fully incorporate wellbeing into strategic planning or accountability measures. The school addresses some wellbeing concerns, but lacks a school counselor. Students have some opportunities to develop wellbeing, but leaders are working to encourage healthier lifestyles. Overall, students feel safe and supported in school.

LEADERSHIP AND TEACHING FOR EFFECTIVE LEARNING

The school leadership lacks important roles, such as a vice-principal and subject leaders, to effectively lead and support the school. Self-evaluation is overly ambitious and the school lacks necessary staff, including a counselor, which has not been addressed by the governance. Policies, training and procedures related to safeguarding need to be implemented and monitored by the governors.

Teaching quality varies across phases, with stronger performance in English, Arabic as a First Language, and mathematics. Teachers demonstrate good subject knowledge and develop students' learning skills. Additional Arabic and literacy assessments support progress in Elementary, but reading assessments have yet to impact outcomes and improve reading levels effectively.
